News Release

Waddell & Reed Financial, Inc. Reports Second Quarter Results

Overland Park, KS, July 31, 2018 — Waddell & Reed Financial, Inc. (NYSE: WDR) today reported second quarter 2018 net income(1) of $44.5 million, or $0.55 per diluted share, compared to net income of $46.3 million, or $0.56 per diluted share, during the prior quarter and net income of $24.1 million, or $0.29 per diluted share, during the second quarter of 2017.

Revenues of $295.3 million during the quarter declined 1% sequentially and increased 3% compared to the second quarter of 2017. Operating expenses of $237.1 million during the quarter remained largely unchanged compared to the prior quarter and increased less than 1% compared to the same quarter in 2017. The operating margin was 19.7% during the current quarter, compared to 20.1% and 17.8% during the first quarter of 2018 and the second quarter of 2017, respectively.

Assets under management ended the quarter at $78.7 billion, declining 2% compared to the prior quarter and 2% compared to the second quarter of 2017. Sales of $2.9 billion during the current quarter declined 23% compared to the first quarter of 2018 and were 11% lower than the second quarter of 2017. Net outflows were $3.1 billion during the current quarter, compared to net outflows of $1.5 billion during the prior quarter and $2.5 billion during the second quarter of 2017, with the current quarter redemption increase driven primarily by the Institutional channel. A sequential improvement in market return helped offset some of the outflows during the current quarter.

Broker-dealer assets under administration ended the quarter at $57.1 billion, increasing 1% compared to the first quarter of 2018 and 6% compared to the second quarter of 2017. Average productivity per advisor, as measured by average trailing twelve-month revenue per advisor, was $314 thousand for the twelve-month period ended June 30, 2018; improving 10% compared to the twelve-month period ended March 31, 2018. Average productivity per advisor continues to rise as we focus our programs and support on high-performing financial advisors.

“We continue to be focused on managing our product line to ensure its competitiveness. Strengthening our investment performance and dynamically managing our products and their distribution are key steps in our progress,” said Philip J. Sanders, Chief Executive Officer of Waddell & Reed Financial, Inc. “We believe in the value we provide as active managers, and our recent results have borne that out, with performance improvement across a majority of our key strategies.”

Revenues Analysis

Investment management fee revenues decreased $3.3 million, or 2%, sequentially, or slightly less than the decrease in average assets under management due to an additional day in the current quarter. Compared to the second quarter of 2017, fees declined less than 1%. During the current quarter, the effective management fee rate was 65.4 basis points, compared to 65.8 basis points during the first quarter of 2018 and 65.1 basis points during the second quarter of 2017. Average assets under management were $80.0 billion during the current quarter, compared to $82.4 billion during the prior quarter and $80.6 billion during the second quarter of 2017.

Underwriting and distribution fees decreased $0.2 million, or less than 1%, sequentially. A decrease in distribution fees due to lower assets in unaffiliated distribution was partially offset by higher asset-based advisory fee revenues in the broker-dealer. Compared to the second quarter of 2017, fees increased $9.1 million, or 7% due to higher asset-based advisory fees in the broker-dealer and new revenues from independent financial advisors for services, which were partially offset by lower distribution fees.

(1) Net income represents net income attributable to Waddell & Reed Financial, Inc.

Operating Expenses Analysis

Distribution expenses decreased $0.2 million, or less than 1% sequentially, in correlation with the decrease in underwriting and distribution revenues. Compared to the second quarter of 2017, distribution expenses increased $5.3 million, or 5% due to higher commissions paid to independent financial advisors under the new commission structure that became effective on January 1, 2018 and higher commissions on our asset-based advisory products due to advisory asset growth. The increase was partly offset by lower commissions paid to third-party distributors.

Compensation and benefits expenses declined $3.0 million, or 4% sequentially, due to lower payroll taxes, savings plan costs and equity compensation, which were partially offset by severance costs of $4.4 million during the current quarter. Compared to the second quarter of 2017, expenses rose $0.5 million, or less than 1%, as severance costs and the annual merit increase were partly offset by lower pension costs due to the prior year plan freeze.

General and administrative expenses declined $0.4 million, or 2%, sequentially due to lower usage of consultants following the completion of various projects and lower fund waiver costs. Compared to the second quarter of 2017, expenses declined $4.1 million, or 18%, due to a combination of lower usage of consultants during the current quarter, primarily for Project E, the Department of Labor fiduciary rule, and to fund merger costs in 2017.

Technology expenses increased $0.6 million, or 4%, sequentially due to a combination of higher data service costs and consulting costs. Compared to the second quarter of 2017, expenses declined $0.5 million, or 3% due to lower software licensing costs.

The current quarter includes an intangible impairment charge of $1.2 million related to a terminated subadvisory agreement.

Income Taxes

During the second quarter, we resolved and closed an outstanding state tax liability resulting in a benefit of $6.4 million, which was largely offset by the tax shortfall on restricted stock vesting.

About the Company

Through its subsidiaries, Waddell & Reed Financial, Inc. has provided investment management and financial planning services to clients throughout the United States since 1937. Today, we distribute our investment products through the unaffiliated channel (encompassing broker/dealer, retirement, and registered investment advisors), our broker-dealer channel (through independent financial advisors), and our Institutional channel (including defined benefit plans, pension plans, endowments and subadvisory relationships). For more information, visit ir.waddell.com.

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, which reflect the current views and assumptions of management with respect to future events regarding our business and industry in general. These forward-looking statements include all statements, other than statements of historical fact, regarding our financial position, business strategy and other plans and objectives for future operations, including statements with respect to revenues and earnings, the amount and composition of assets under management, distribution sources, expense levels, redemption rates, stock repurchases and the financial markets and other conditions. These statements are generally identified by the use of such words as “may,” “could,” “should,” “would,” “believe,” “anticipate,” “forecast,” “estimate,” “expect,” “intend,” “plan,” “project,” “outlook,” “will,” “potential” and similar statements of a future or forward-looking nature. Readers are cautioned that any forward-looking information provided by us or on our behalf is not a guarantee of future performance. Actual results may differ materially from those contained in these forward-looking statements as a result of various factors, including but not limited to those discussed below. If one or more events related to these or other risks, contingencies or uncertainties materialize, or if our underlying assumptions prove to be incorrect, actual results may differ materially from those forecasted or expected. Certain important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our expectations are disclosed in the “Risk Factors” section of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017, which include, without limitation:

- The loss of existing distribution relationships or inability to access new distribution relationships;
 - A reduction in assets under our management on short notice, through increased redemptions in our distribution channels or our Funds, particularly those Funds with a high concentration of assets, or investors terminating their relationship with us or shifting their funds to other types of accounts with different rate structures;
- The adverse ruling or resolution of any litigation, regulatory investigations and proceedings, or securities arbitrations by a federal or state court or regulatory body;
 - Changes in our business model, operations and procedures, including our methods of distributing our proprietary products, as a result of evolving fiduciary standards;
 - The introduction of legislative or regulatory proposals or judicial rulings that change the independent contractor classification of our financial advisors at the federal or state level for employment tax or other employee benefit purposes;
 - A decline in the securities markets or in the relative investment performance of our Funds and other investment portfolios and products as compared to competing funds;
 - Our inability to reduce expenses rapidly enough to align with declines in our revenues due to various factors, including fee pressure, the level of our assets under management or our business environment.
 - Non-compliance with applicable laws or regulations and changes in current legal, regulatory, accounting, tax or compliance requirements or governmental policies;
 - Our inability to attract and retain senior executive management and other key personnel to conduct our business;

- A failure in, or breach of, our operational or security systems or our technology infrastructure, or those of third parties on which we rely; and
- Our inability to implement new information technology and systems, or our inability to complete such implementation in a timely or cost effective manner.

The foregoing factors should not be construed as exhaustive and should be read together with other cautionary statements included in this and other reports and filings we make with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including the information in Item 1 “Business” and Item 1A “Risk Factors” of Part I and Item 7 “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” of Part II to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017 and as updated in our quarterly reports on Form 10-Q for the year ending December 31, 2018. All forward-looking statements speak only as of the date on which they are made and we undertake no duty to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except to the extent required by law.
